

Toy company expands, moves

8907B
Aeromax Toys is expanding operations into larger quarters, promoting staff and adding a new item to a top-selling category.

The company, which makes innovative products that encourage imaginative play, recently moved to larger warehouse and office space, nearly doubling its capacity to meet growing demand for its popular brands, which include Get Real Gear and the Rocket Writer Pen.

Aeromax moved from Palatine to 22272-F Pepper Road, Lake Barrington.

Its toll-free telephone number, (877) 776-2291, remains the same.

To keep track of its growing operations, Aeromax Toys has promoted Sean Schipper to chief operating officer.

His responsibilities include overseeing customer service along with all internal operations.

The success of Aeromax Toys' Get Real Gear — a realistic line of high-quality, dress-up outfits for kids — has prompted Aeromax to introduce its new junior train engineer outfit.

Founded in 1997 by Mark Levine, Aeromax Inc. is dedicated to making innovative, high-quality products designed to provide kids with the tools needed to encourage a higher level of creative and imaginative play.
